IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son and brother, James Thurman Gibson, who passed away 15 years ago today, July 17, 1959.

A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A life linked with our own,
And day by day we miss you more,
As we walk through life alone.

They say that time heals all sorrow,
And helps us to forget;
But, dear Jimmmie, time so far has
Only proved how much we miss you yet.

We think of you today, resting,
Sleeping just away, resting where no
Shadows fall.
In perfect peace you await us all.
—Your loving Mon, Dad, and Brothers, Charlie & Bill.

N & W PUTS FAMED ENGINE IN MUSEUM

St. Louis.- Norfolk and Western's Locomotive 2156, proud representative of the heaviest and most powerful steamers ever built by the railway, was presented to the National Museum of Transport here.

Speaking at the brief ceremony, N&W President Stuart T. Saunders said that "no instrumentality of transportation has played a greater role in the economic development and growth of the United States than the steam locomotive." He said that the N&W; last major railroad to dieselize, would be completely converted by the end of the year because of major operating economies and the difficulty in obtaining parts for steam engines.

"This locomotive was one of the workhorses of our railroad for seventeen years and ran over a million miles," he said, "With massive power, it moved up and down the steep grades in the West Virginia, Virginia and Kentucky coal fields pulling the heaviest loads on our railroad."

LOCAL FARMERS TOUR VPI EXPERIMENTS

A group of ten local farmers last Wednesday toured the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station at V. P. I., Blacksburg. This one day tour carried the group through four departments of the experiment station. The group visited the Dairy Science Department, the Poultry Department, the Agronomy Farm, and the Animal Husbandry facilities.

The tour was arranged and sponsored by the Appomattox Young Farmers Club. Making the trip were: Bill Williamson, Ray Page, Calvin Harris, Albert Harvey, Richard Krantz, H .W. Mann, Mr. Wilburn, Coleman Goolsby, Louis Moore, and E. B. Drinkard with the Young Farmer Advisor, W. Lewis Motley.

The Appomattox Young Farmers Club is an education organization for young men who are making their living on the farm. It meets regularly on the second Tuesday night of each month to discuss farm topics and problems. One or more social meetings are also held during the year. The club is open to all young men on the farm who may wish to attend.

Bill Williamson, of Route 4, is president of the club. Other officers are: Richard Krantz, vice-president; Elantha (Jimmie) Drinkard, secretary; Ray Page, treasurer, and Gerald Blanks, reporter. The organization's regular meetings are held in the Vocational Agriculture Building at Appomattox High School. W. Lewis Motley is advisor to the group.

NEW BOOKS IN THE COUNTY LIBRARY

In the black days of the seventeenth century there raged in Ireland a violent Civil War. This is a rich, engrossing novel of that warborn land, where ordinary people are forced to live out their lives in terrible times.

The Carolinians
by Jane Barry.
A gripping story of the American Revolution, it centers on a devoted Loyalist family of the Carolinas, who sheltered a wounded rebel.

SAFETY AWARD

The Award of Honor, the National Safety Council's highest award, has been presented to the Virginia Department of Highways. It is the third time in the past five years the Department has received the coveted plaque. On two other occasions it received the Award of Merit, the Safety Council's second highest honor.

The award is based on the number of man hours worked compared with time lost because of personal injury accidents.

The Old Dominion road agency had a rating of 4.4 accidents per million man hours, as compared with a 15.0 rating for the nation as a whole.

Mayor Says Building Costs Total $175,000

To the Citizens of
The Town of Appomattox:
The regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday, July 20, at 7:30 P .M. The regular order of business was transacted. Five permits for five new buildings and dwellings were presented and approved. Since January of 1959, approximately $175,000 in building permits have been presented and approved by the council. Of course, all of these dwellings and buildings have not been completed yet, but most of this construction has been ,stared, and I feel sure will be completed in the near future. I feel sure that these facts are very enlightening to everyone and it is a positive fact that as our good Editor says, "Appomattox is a growing town!"

During the recent dry and hot weather, we have been most fortunate that the water supply has not yet reached the critical point, I feel sure that if all of you good people will continue giving us your fine cooperation that the town will be able to furnish everyone enough water for all necessary uses.

I plead with all of you good people to again take another look around your premises and let's make another concerted effort to clean and beautify our property, and make Appomattox "The cleanest and neatest town in the State of Virginia."

During the past month, there have been approximately fifteen convictions for careless and reckless driving in the Town Court. I again ask each of you to give the Town officers your one hundred per cent cooperation, and let's try to minimize all traffic hazards.

Your counsel and advice on all public matters is welcomed at all times.

Sincerely,
C. T. Moses, Jr.
Mayor, Town of Appomattox.

WOLL PAYMENT RATE IS SET

Wool growers of Virginia will receive a payment of 70.3 cents for each dollar's worth of wool marketed during the 1958 marketing year, chairman W. D. Hix, III, of the Appomattox Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee announced today.

The payment rate represents the percentage necessary to bring the national average price wool growers got for their wool during the year ending last March up to the established national incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

The payment rate on unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be $1.02 per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is designed to maintain the normal practice of marketing lambs with the wool on, rather than shearing them to obtain the shorn wool payment.

The 1958 wool payment rate is the highest in the four years the program has been in operation, chairman Hix said. This is the result of relatively low prices received for wool in the market last year. For 1955, the first year of the program, the shorn wool incentive payment rate was 44.9 per cent; for 1956, it was 40 per cent, and for 1957, 16.5 per cent.

County ASC offices expect to begin making the 1958 wool payments soon to growers who filed applications by April 30, 1959. The payments are for wool and unshorn lambs marketed between April 1, 1958, and March 31, 1959.

Manassas Plans For Centennial

Manassas, Va.- A full-scale re-enactment of the first battle of Manassas or Bull Run, initial major engagement of the Civil War, has definitely been decided on and will be staged with a grand review and authentic portrayal of action scenes a century ago.

The decision to relive this important engagement of the war period was reached at a meeting of responsible officials and committees at the headquarters of the Manassas National Battlefield Park near here. The program is scheduled for July 20-21, 1961.

"This is one of the greatest strides made to date in our plans to bring about a suitable, nationwide observance of the Centennial," commented Karl S. Betts, executive director of the National Civil War Centennial Commission.

The action came as the Governor's office at Richmond reported favorable response to invitations to other states to participate in the re-enactment.

"It is our desire," wrote Governor J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., "that each of the 23 states involved in that first great battle of the war will be represented by a contingent of men dressed in copies of contemporary uniforms of the regiments of their states."

These invitations were sent to 12 states in the North and to 11 in the South. Already 16 of these have responded, either accepting or promising to bring the matter to prompt consideration as soon as proper committees and organizations could be commited.

Governor David L. Lawrence, of Pennsylvania replied that he was asking his adjutant general to make preliminary preparations "so that Pennsylvania will be represented."

Pennsylvania had the largest number of North Civil War regiments in the battle —27. New York was second with 19. On the Southern side, Virginia led with 18, followed by South Carolina with six.

The last reenactment of the battle took place in the 1930's. At that time, an estimated crowd of 30,000 persons gathered on the rolling hills of the battlefield to watch National Government and cadets from nearby military schools restage the hostilities of July 21, 1861. With the changes in mode of transportation of the past 20 years and the importance of the Centennial occasion, officials are preparing for an attendance of at least 100,000.

Preliminary study of troop movements and troop placement already have been started.

"We want this reenactment to have every semblance of authenticity," one of the officials said. "It is our desire for eyewitnesses to get the feel of the battle as their grandfathers fought it, to take in the kaleidoscopic panorama of uniform colors against the green of the rolling hills, to go away with a clear understanding of how the contest waged back and forth before it finally ended in a victory for the South."

Officials now are working an plans to provide suitable accomodations for the immense crowds expected. Every detail for their entertainment and their understanding of the battle will be arranged.

In addition to the grand review and reenactment, dances and other social activity will be included in the program.
